Before you love, learn to run barefoot through the snow without leaving any tracks.

ARIEL: 1967

Lawrence University
Appleton,
Wisconsin

They were tearing down the old church at the corner.
Or rather, trying to.
It was here before the town—
Perhaps even more years than can be counted
Were tangled in its roots.
But then, a great, registered machine
Sat, poised for morning,
Guarding the church's door.
A wall appeared around the church
And revealed an immensity no one had ever noticed.
A fenced-in power seems to carry farthest.

First men came and droned
Above their own machines.
Perched oddly in each window,
They axed away the glass.
Carefully, though,
So no bits of red and green and blue
Would change and color the avenue.
At night it was not certain
That anything had changed—
The church masked itself in turning old,
Its windows just gone dark.

Suddenly the front brick was gone.
It was startling at first,
With an alabaster wall exposed.
Now the block had been instantly transported
To the first church in an early Spanish town.
How many more faces could the building have maintained,
Pushed back through layer after layer?

They reached the spire at the end.
There was a quiet moment—
Then finally it bucked,
And towered to the ground.

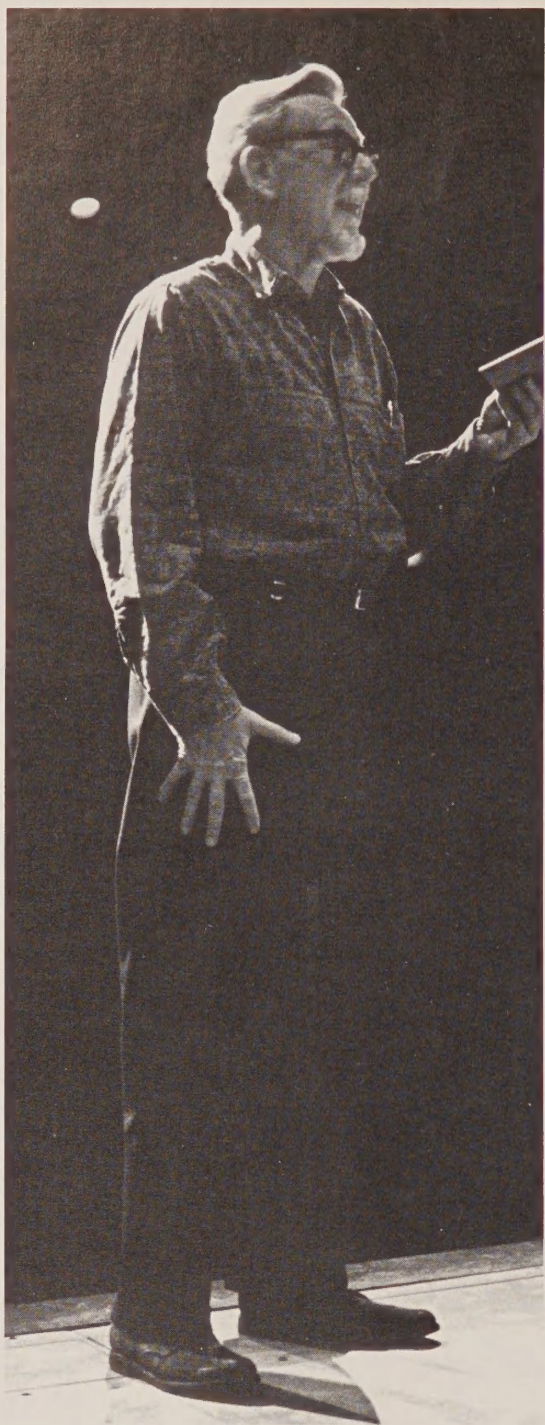

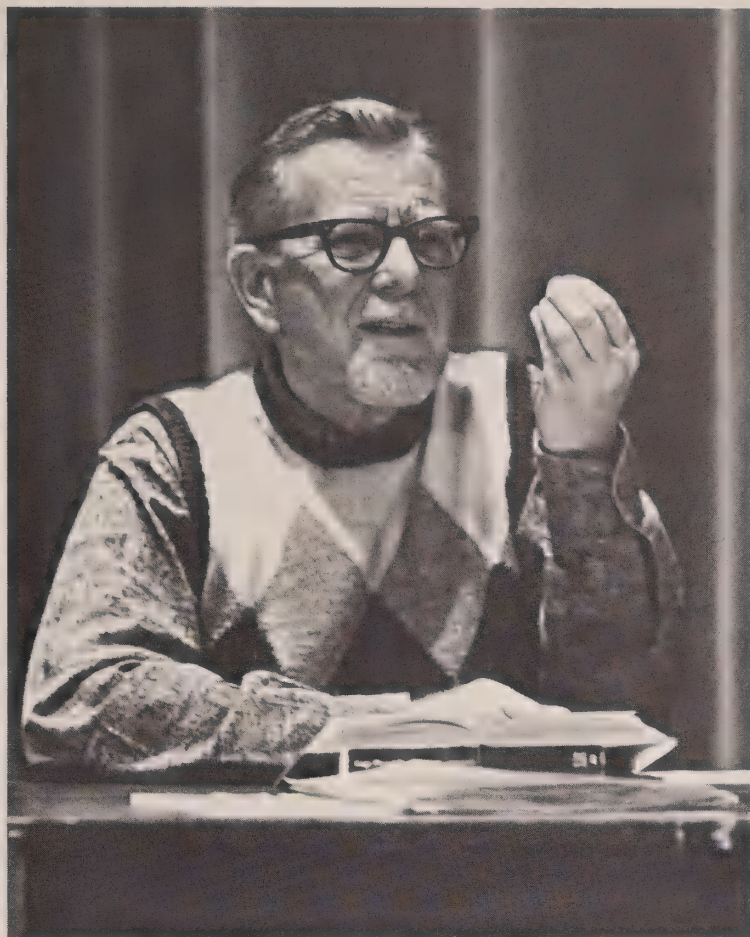

He is quiet-spoken and gentle, with hands that reveal his strength and a face that will explode anybody's misconceptions. Anyone who has had even a moment of contact with him knows his instantaneous acceptance of the role of "Daddy Cloak" when necessary. And yet, when he is thought of it is only with the highest respect. He is a man not afraid of feeling, and a man not afraid of exposing this. We find no other words to say than these: we dedicate the 1967 Ariel to Professor F. Theodore Cloak.

Prologue

To be sure, one doesn't want to live as though each day may be his last, when there is at least some chance that it may be only his next. . . .

I begin each day with a gesture of cynicism, and close it with a gesture of faith; or if you prefer, begin it by reminding myself that, for me at least, goals and objectives are without value, and close it by demonstrating that the fact is irrelevant. A gesture of temporality, a gesture of eternity. It is in the tension between these two gestures that I have lived my adult life.

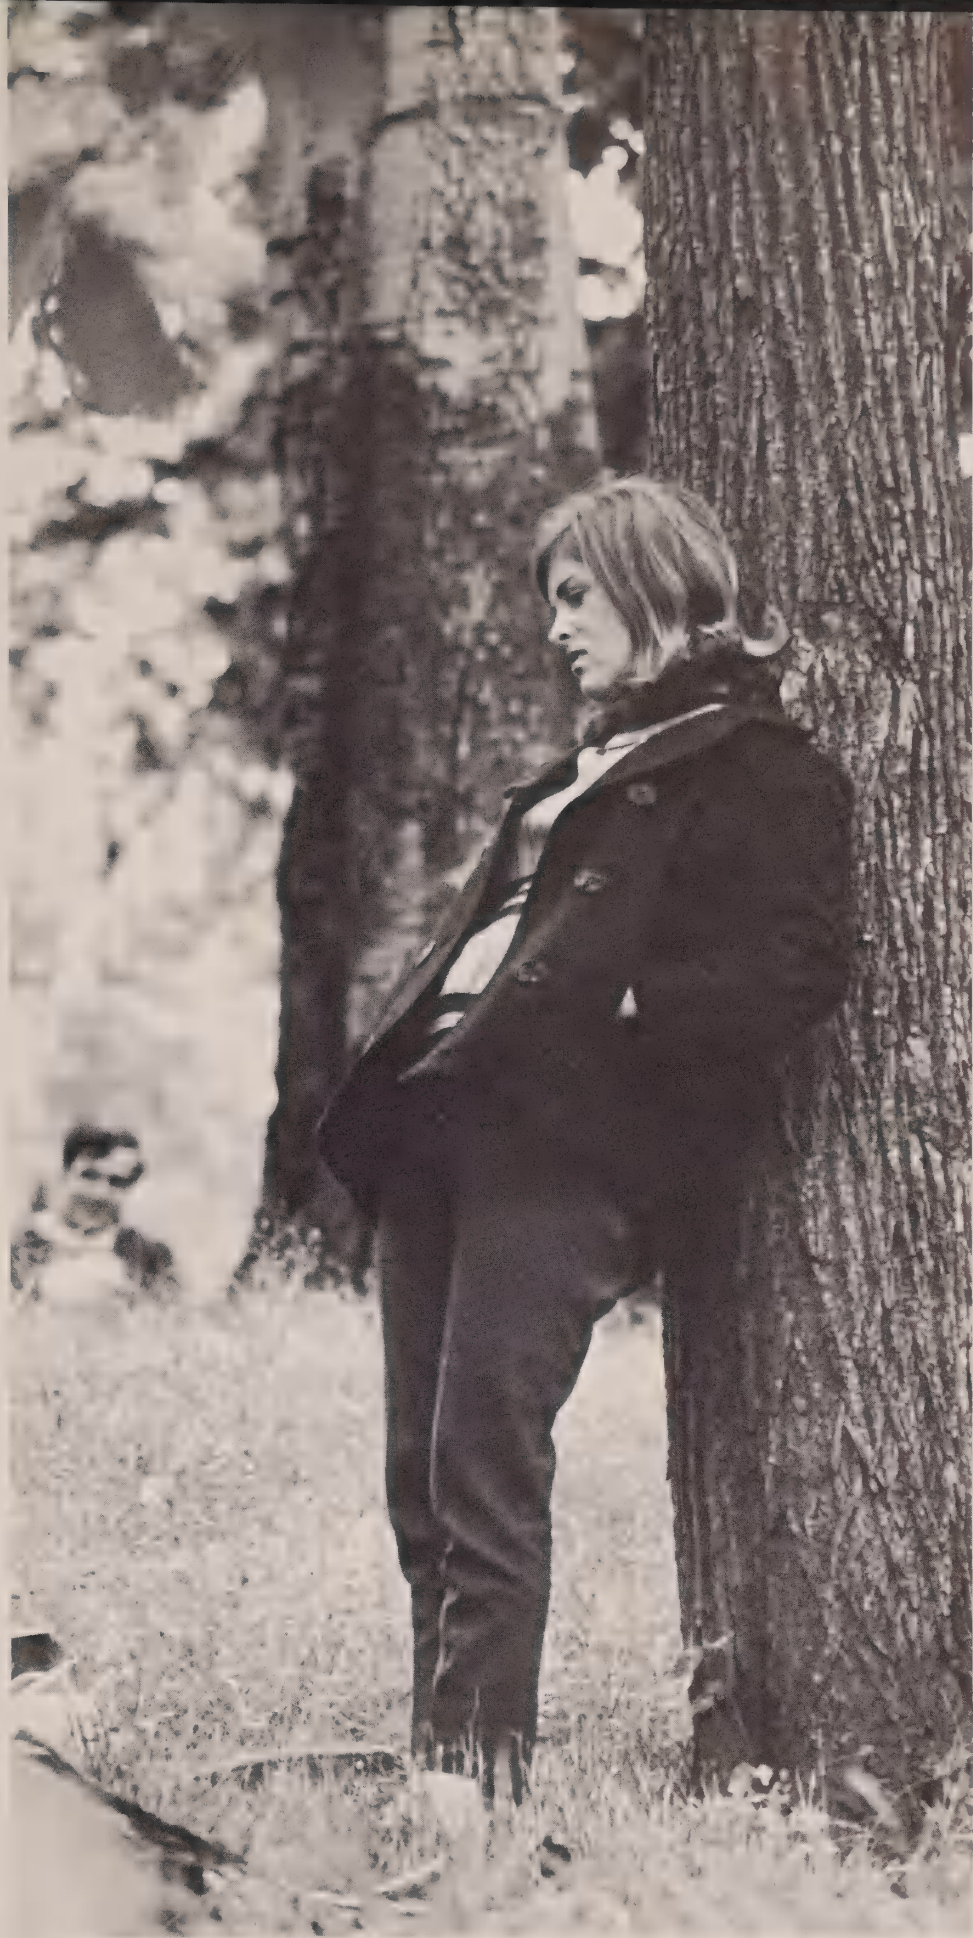

—John Barth,

The Floating Opera

A tension, then. A conflict-contrast, a polarity to live within. Hot and cold not opposites, but soul-mates. From this growth; and, someday, living. A year, 1966–1967.

To the alive who are in love
(and who else are alive?)
nothing except the impossible (which is being) shall occur.

while you and i have lips and voices which are for kissing and to sing with, who cares if some one-eyed son of a bitch
invents an instrument to measure Spring?

—E. E. Cummings

A sense of humor is a sense of proportion.

—anonymous

There is always some accident in the best things, whether thoughts or expressions or deeds.

—Thoreau

In the course of the preceding papers I have endeavored, my fellow-citizens, to lay before you in a clear and convincing light the importance of Union to your political safety and happiness. I have unfolded to you a complication of dangers to which you would be exposed, should you permit that sacred knot which binds the people of America together to be severed or dissolved by ambition or by avarice, by jealousy or by misunderstanding. In the sequel of the inquiry through which I propose to accompany you, the truths intended to be inculcated will . . .

—The Federalist, # 15

Those who profess to favor freedom, and yet deprecate agitation, are men who want rain without thunder and lightening. They want the ocean without the roar of its mighty waters.

—Frederick Douglass

faculty

There was a day, specifically the afternoon of the last faculty meeting of academic year 1966–1967, (a final Friday when most of the underclassmen were packed away and home, and most of the seniors were in their last moments of being seniors—a hectic day, to understate) that we tried. Bravely setting up tripod and special lenses, several Ariel photographers invaded the coffee hour before the meeting. Guided and encouraged by Mr. Fritzell (he pointing out, identifying and sending us over to the faculty members we had missed during the year), we thought we had completed our coverage of the faculty. We had a good idea. Attempting to capture the essence of a year which was at least as strange, frustrating, demanding, and, hopefully, as exciting for the faculty as it was for the students; we wanted to present less formal and more individual portraits of the faculty members. None of the pictures taken on that last day turned out. Although it is sin number one to apologize in an introduction, we are doing so, and sincerely, to each professor who is not pictured in this section. It doesn't help to say it, but we did try.

Interum

And there is always the interum. That time of the surface calm, the outwardly subdued; when steadily underneath experience is hammering and a framework is building itself. This is the midway—the time between the beginning (when shapes and events clash, astonish and overwhelm) and the ending (the transcending of those shapes and events from their symbolism to an order, an un-frenzy, an understanding). The interum, time when totally unnoticed the vision—the first vague concept of pattern for the separate experiences, the ghostly hauntings—grows, slowly and peaceably. A transitional stage only in that it leads from the initial to the final.

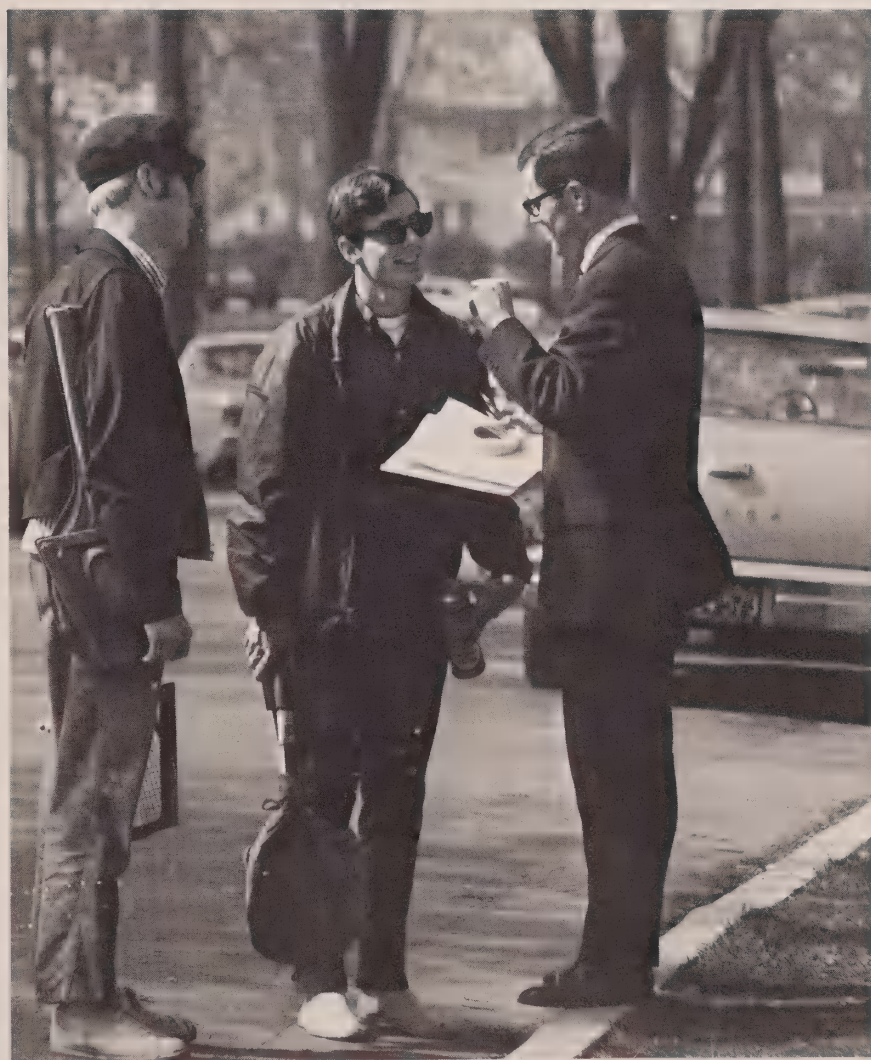

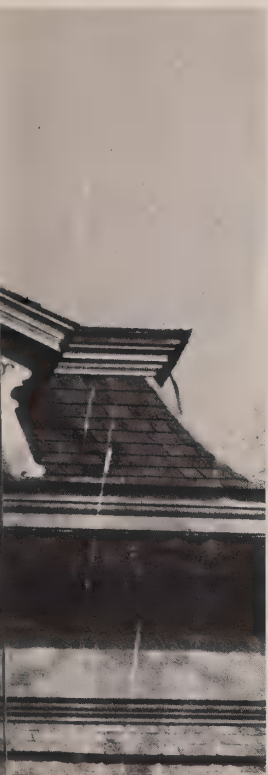

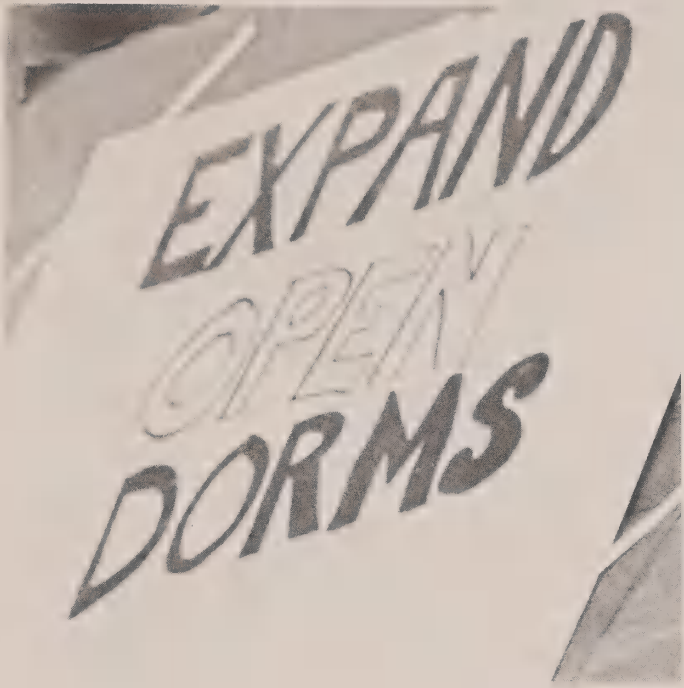

Who would be "Secure"? Every and any slave.
No free spirit ever dreamed of "Security"—or, if he did, he laughed; and lived to shame his dream.

—E. E. Cummings

President Harris called the meeting to order at 8:08 PM. Jasin, Swiggum, Devlin, Nash, Whyte, Mattheson, Frasch, Mack, Wilson were absent. . . .

. . . Harris thought that the benefit of Encampment was partial as it involved only a few students, however, the ideas brought back to campus were important. The Student Senate should therefore give its partial support . . .

In a Glass of Cider

It seemed I was a mite of sediment
That waited for the bottom to ferment
So I could catch a bubble in ascent.
I rode up on one till the bubble burst
And when that left me to sink back reversed
I was no worse off than I was at first.
I'd catch another bubble if I waited.
The thing was to get now and then elated.

The question was moved—which meant that if the motion passed, there would be no more debate. Other people seemed to have their hands up signifying that they had more to say.

. . . The decision was appealed. It was debatable, however, no one wished to debate the question.

. . . wanted to know if men got to know each other, why do women need teas?
The answer was that men and women are, after all, different.

Lawrence Women's Association: Mary Ann Michaels, President.
All-School Judicial Board: Jean Gurney, President.

Honor Council: Steven Rosenfield, Chairman.

- . . . Rhoades withdrew his motion.
- . . . Since the motion was out of order due to a previous ruling, Scott withdrew his motion.
- . . . Streater withdrew his motion.
- . . . Toyce withdrew his motion.

6. Streater moved to adjourn the meeting.
Motion and vote: to adjourn passed.

At 11:14 the meeting was adjourned.

Epilogue

. . . A lot of people think or believe or know they feel—but that's thinking or believing or knowing; not feeling.

And so my advice to all young people who wish to become . . . is: do something easy, like learning how to blow up the world—unless you're not only willing, but glad to feel and work and fight till you die. Does this sound dismal? It isn't. It's the most wonderful life. Or so I feel.

—E. E. Cummings
Non-lecture

And the epilogue: only a final stage, not an ending really. The moment of crystallization; epiphany, enlightenment. A stability, true in the sense that it is a calmness quite aware that any moment the cycle will begin again—the disjointed events, floating images; the confusion will begin. But it is a time for a pausing, a suspension. The epilogue is a stage no more and no less transitional than the starting or mid point.

Blown hair is sweet, brown hair over the mouth blown,
Lilac and brown hair . . .

—T. S. Eliot
Ash-Wednesday

That which is non-existent can never come into being,
That which is can never cease to be.

—The Bahagavad Gita

'Moths are attracted by the flame of personality. So are vampires. Artists should take note and beware.'

—Lawrence Durrell
from the Diaries of Purse Warden
Balthazar

seniors

What a grotesque thing a rose is . . .
and how strange the unfamiliar sky is through frightening dreams . . .

—F. Scott Fitzgerald
The Great Gatsby

A lot of playing went on this year, a lot of fighting, a lot of discussing. It was a different year; conflicts, contrasts and changes—if anyone cried “apathy,” it was, for once, an irrelevant and untrue cry. Not a bad year to be a senior—academic year 1966–1967 might be an unrealistic example of the world, but then, it might be an example.

DO YOU SAIL FROM HERE?

How does your compass read — what is your next port-of-call? Are your horizons near or far? Time will tell of the number who achieve their goals. Will you be one of these? Some will drift aimlessly on the uncertain sea of life. Others will be storm-tossed on unseen rocks and shoals. But those who prepare well and maintain their charted courses with courage and faith — these are most likely to sail into happy harbors. The members of AAL wish for all of you a pleasant and rewarding journey.

GEORGE BANTA COMPANY, Inc., MENASHA, WIS.

BOSTON CHICAGO NEW YORK PALO ALTO WASHINGTON

"I give hearty and humble thanks for the safe return of this book, which having endured the perils of my friend's bookcase and the bookcases of my friend's friends, now returns to me in reasonably good condition. I give hearty and humble thanks that my friend did not see fit to give this book to his infant for a plaything, nor use it as an ash tray for his burning cigar, nor as a teething-ring for his mastiff. When I loaned this book, I deemed it as lost; I was resigned to the business of the long parting; I never thought to look upon its pages again. But now that my book has come back to me, I rejoice and am exceedingly glad! Bring hither the fatted morocco and let us rebind the volume and set it on the shelf of honor, for this my book was lent and is returned again. Presently, therefore, I may return some of the books I myself have borrowed."

We'd like you to get to know Don Strutz

If you get into air terminals very often you may have bumped into Don Strutz. He gets around. After all that's a sales manager's lot in life. But chances are Don has been in your office helping you solve a particular fourdrinier wire problem. Or maybe he's filled you in on one of Appleton Wire's continuing research developments—or perhaps he's helped you make better paper with better wires. Maybe he's just told you about that last birdie putt. Whatever, the people at Appleton Wire Works are concerned with making superior wires. That's why we'd like you to get to know Don Strutz . . . even better.

The City of Appleton

HISTORICAL HIGHLIGHTS Appleton was named after Samuel Appleton of Boston, whose son-in-law, Amos A. Lawrence, by a gift of money to the Methodist Church, became the founder of Lawrence College, chartered in 1847.

The first settler of European stock was Hippolyte Grignon, who established a home on the river bank near what is now Alicia Park, in 1835. The first settler of English speech was Belle B. Murch, who bought from the government in November, 1846, a farm west of the present city limits.

John F. Johnston and his family were the first to build a permanent home within the city limits. Located on what is now Johnston Street, the log building served as a home, hotel, hospital, church and Sunday school.

The Methodists organized the first church, with the Rev. A. B. Randall as pastor. H. L. Blood established the first general store.

Outagamie County was created by the Wisconsin Legislature in 1851, with Grand Chute (now Appleton) as the county seat.

In 1854 the city had two saw mills, several flour mills, a paper mill and cabinet factory.

Appleton was incorporated as a city May 2, 1857, as a consolidation of three villages—Lawesburg, Grand Chute and Appleton.

The world's first hydro-electric central station was built in Appleton in 1882, and in 1886 the first electric street cars west of the Alleghenies were brought by Judge J. E. Harriman.
